10th Annual Colloquium in Latin American and Peninsular Languages, Literatures, and Cultures «Samuel G. Armistead»

University of California, Davis

October 17, 2014

Keynote Speakers:
Linguistics: Milton Azevedo, Spanish & Portuguese Department, UC Berkeley.
Literature: Esther Fernández, Spanish Department, Sarah Lawrence College, NY.

The graduate students in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese of UC Davis cordially invite submissions for the 10th Annual Colloquium in Latin American and Peninsular Languages, Literatures, and Cultures «Samuel G. Armistead».

The organizing committee will consider papers exploring the following thematic areas:

- American and Luso-Hispanic literary, comparative and transatlantic studies.
- Visual and film studies.
- Critical theory trajectories and debates.
- Spanish literature in the US.
- Spanish as Heritage Language in the US.
- Spanish and Portuguese phonetics, phonology and dialectology.
- Applied linguistics, sociolinguistics, psycholinguistics, educational and anthropological linguistics.
- Cultural and Gender studies in Latin America and the Iberian Peninsula.
- Siglo de Oro literary studies.
- Iberian literary and cultural studies.

THE DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION OF ABSTRACTS (250 words) is August 15, 2014. Please submit your abstracts by clicking on the text below:

10th Annual Graduate Student Colloquium Abstract Submission

Note: Abstracts and presentations can be written and delivered in Spanish, Portuguese and/or English. Each individual will be allowed 15 minutes to present.

For inquiries, contact the UC Davis Colloquium Committee 2014 at.ucdaviscolloquium2014@gmail.com